L'ENVERS ET L'ENDROIT DE L'ATELIER DU 35 RUE DE SÈVRES - 1924-1965 - XXII^{ème} RENCONTRES DE LA FONDATION

The 22nd edition of the Rencontres de la Fondation Le Corbusier is dedicated to the studio at 35 rue de Sèvres, opened in 1924 by Le Corbusier and his cousin Pierre Jeanneret.

The Rencontres will seek to understand the particularities of this cosmopolitan place, to evoke its functioning, but also to question the role played by Le Corbusier in the elaboration and organization of this workshop, the management of projects, the recruitment of collaborators and trainees...

They will reflect Corbusé's vision of the studio as a microcosm open to the world. Particular attention will be paid to the agency's permanent reversibility between architectural studio and laboratory of ideas, and its efficient deployment after the Second World War to meet the challenges posed by reconstruction and major new projects.

NATURES INTÉRIEURES - VILLA SAVOYE - NOVEMBER 15, 2024 - MARCH 2, 2025

The Natures intérieures exhibition explores the relationship between architecture and nature through some thirty works by contemporary designers. Organized by the Centre des Monuments Nationaux and the Centre National des Arts Plastiques, it takes place in a place where nature and architecture blend harmoniously.

The works on display are inspired by living forms, whether plant, mineral or animal, and by atmospheric phenomena. Among them are creations by the Bouroullec brothers, Marcel Wanders, Patricia Urquiola and Shiro Kuramata, who question the new habitability of spaces and celebrate natural materials.
