AIN'T MISBEHAVIN' - NICOLE WITTENBERG AT MAISON LA ROCHE - PARIS - JUNE 13 - JULY 17

Ain't Misbehavin' presents a series of paintings by Nicole Wittenberg, developed from her preparatory pastel sketches made en plein air. Starting with a fleeting sketch of a garden in bloom, the artist deploys her sensitive memory to reconstitute, in her studio, a complex pictorial world dedicated to nature.

This exhibition is presented in collaboration with MASSIMODECARLO gallery.

THEODORE STRAWINSKY - A KEYBOARD OF COLORS - VILLA LE LAC - CORSEAU - JUNE 27 - SEPTEMBER 28

Theodore Strawinsky, the famous composer's son, gives voice to this colorful keyboard. Literally, since his oils, gouaches, watercolors, pastels and other graphite drawings are accompanied by transcriptions of two audio recordings made by the painter in the 1980s. The voices of Marie Stravinsky, Sylvie Visinand and Luc-Régis Gilbert, actors and witnesses from the early days, accompany the transcriptions. If the formula is Le Corbusier's, it suits Stravinsky's expression: between scales and arpeggios, the keyboard of colors reveals the convergences and affinities between the two artists.

EVENTS

As twilight falls, two artists bring the villa to life. Le Frit, a sound artist, plays a live creation broadcast around the villa, while Dorian Rigal Minuit, an artist with a degree in architecture, proposes a creation combining lighting and projection.

Invited by curator Théo Diers, this evening event echoes the megalomelancholia exhibition, which explores the relationship between space and emotion, currently on show at the Pavillon Carré de Baudouin in Paris until July 19.
